Tumbleweed Songwriting Contest

January 2016

Dear Songwriters,

The Three Rivers Folklife Society is hosting the Jane Titland Memorial Songwriting Contest in conjunction with the 2016 Tumbleweed Music Festival, in Richland, Washington, on Labor Day weekend. Each year's contest features a new song topic. This year the topic will be "come together." Applications must be received by mail or land carrier by April 16, 2016.

Contest entrants need not be festival participants. Preliminary judging will be conducted in May and June, and ten finalists and three alternates will be notified by early July. The finalists will perform their entries for a panel of judges at the festival on Saturday, September 4th. The top three winners will receive prizes and there will also be a people's choice award.

- First place will receive $300 and the 2016 Tumbleweed Songwriting Contest trophy. The winning song will be featured during the Saturday evening concert.
- Second place will receive $150.
- Third place will receive $75.
- People's Choice will receive $50.

Rules and Procedures:

- Each competing artist or collaborating group may enter one original song in the contest.
- The song must comprise the original lyrics and melody of the writer(s)
- Songs may have been previously recorded.
- The writer(s) must retain all rights to the song.
- Submit recording and lyric sheet as instructed on the attached contest entry form.
- Songs must be performed by the writer(s), though others may perform with the writer(s).
- The submitted recording should be representative of a live performance.
- All decisions of the judging panel are final.
- Finalists must perform their songs at the festival on Saturday afternoon to be considered for a prize.
- The winning writer(s) must be able to perform Saturday at the festival evening concert.
- Judging criteria include applicability to the contest topic, song quality, and performance quality.

There's no entry fee, so why not challenge yourself?

Sincerely,

Gene Carbaugh

Jane Titland Memorial Songwriting Contest Entry Form

Please enter my/our original song in the 2016 Tumbleweed Music Festival Jane Titland Songwriting Contest, with the theme of “come together.”

I am submitting lyrics and a recording of an original song and am a featured artist on the recording. The recording is representative of a live performance of this song. I certify by submission that all writing and publication rights for this song remain solely with me and have not been sold or contractually assigned to any other entity. I understand that all judging decisions are final.
